Text mining is the process of distilling actionable insights from text.